

NOTICE: SEATTLE GIG WORKERS

The Office of Labor Standards is investigating Grubhub to ensure its compliance with labor standards laws.

WHILE THE MAYOR'S CIVIL EMERGENCY IS IN EFFECT, THESE LAWS:

- Require companies to provide paid sick and safe time to gig workers.
- Protect companies to pay gig workers premium pay for delivery pick-ups and drop-offs in the City of Seattle.

If you have information concerning Grubhub please contact the Office of Labor Standards, Investigator Nancy Chupp or Investigator Mark Hansen at:

Nancy.Chupp@seattle.gov or Mark.Hansen@seattle.gov

PLEASE NOTE:

- It is illegal for an employer to retaliate against you for contacting the Office of Labor Standards or asserting your rights under labor standards laws.
- Your identifying information during and after an investigation will not be disclosed, as far as the law allows.
- Free language interpreters and reasonable accommodations for disabilities are provided upon request.

Seattle
Office of Labor Standards

MORE INFORMATION
seattle.gov/laborstandards